International Man of Comedy, Tom Rhodes, Pilgrimages to the Wild West

Passionate, head crunching hilarity wrapped in tender morsels of ever loving faith in humanity make Tom Rhodes' comedy universally appealing.

In a raucous stand up career that now spans 25 years and 7 continents there is little Tom Rhodes has not done when it comes to comedy. Appearances on HBO, The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, his own NBC sitcom, receiving the first ever Comedy Central development deal and filming two Comedy Central specials "Comedy Central Presents...Tom Rhodes" (2001, 2009) are to name but a few.

Regular engagements in Comedy clubs scattered across Europe lead to a sojourn to Holland when he was invited to host a late night talk show, The Kevin Masters Show: Starring Tom Rhodes. The much loved program ran for two years with Tom interviewing Holland's biggest celebrities and culminated in his travel show "Yurin Travel" taking him through Russia, Peru, France & The Dutch Caribbean.

"This world of ours is a beautiful place and there are a great many glorious souls and magically funny people who populate it." says Rhodes.

Until now, traversing the globe had failed to bring Tom to Perth. But an invite from the Wild West Comedy Festival meant he could finally begin a once in a lifetime pilgrimage. Tom is a lifetime AC/DC fan and is more than a little excited to be heading West. "I must visit Bon Scott's grave. I plan to have AC/DC playing in my ears often as I walk the sacred soil of Perth. I am grateful to come to Perth and rip the balls off the joint like Bon would with a microphone in my hand."

These days when not ruminating on Acca Dacca, Tom Rhodes spends his time touring the world with his passionate, political and poignant comedy. His lovable personality and warm charm have won him fans across the globe.

Do not miss your chance to see a seasoned world class performer. Tom Rhodes is truly an International Man of Comedy.

"Tom Rhodes is mostly a natural intellect with a knack for reporting the harsh realities of life with a dark and absurdly optimistic cynicism." - The New York Times
